

Behaviour with Regard to Corona

Excerpt from the 790th contact of Tuesday, 4th of January 2022

Zafenatpaneach Then, if you do not mind, my friend, I would like to ask you how you at the FIGU are behaving at present in the face of the rampantly spreading disease that is spreading more and more on Earth? At the moment, nothing is being announced to us because Ptaah is away for a lengthy period of time and no information is being spread by him to us. But we are wondering about how you are behaving with regard to everything, because we know that the rampantly spreading disease is spreading rapidly all over the planet.

Billy Our behaviour remains neutral, so whoever wants to be vaccinated shall do that, because the volition to do so is and remains a purely private matter – some human beings can do so without harm, others are gambling with their health or with their lives. Thus, it is down to each human being to decide for or against, because it is simply not acceptable that in this respect someone can take on the responsibility and decide for or against it for another human being. The responsibility regarding this lies with each human being alone, unless he or she is incapable of doing so due to a disability of consciousness, consequently responsible decisions must be made for him or her. This however is not the case with normal human beings, consequently they have to think and decide responsibly for themselves in every respect. Therefore, we at the FIGU must not give any advice – I personally do not do that either, not even to my family members, nor to FIGU members or to my circle of acquaintances and friends – and must leave it up to each individual human being to decide for or against it, that is to say, for a yes or a no. Nothing else can be allowed under any circumstances, and if something else is being ordered, for example if a mandatory vaccination is being considered by a government, then this is not rightful, but dictatorial and Gewalt-based, which inevitably results in Gewalt and destruction among the people and ultimately leads to deaths. What needs to be done is the following, which, however, has not been done by any single and incapable government on Earth:

1. The official, that is to say, governmental, preventive measures alone must be taken, enacted and implemented at the very beginning of an epidemic or pandemic. This is the absolute and unavoidable obligation of every government, which is absolutely vicariously in charge of and responsible for the well-being and health of the people. This obligation, however, was only partially and irresponsibly fulfilled and, moreover, for too short a period of time, as a result of which the rampantly spreading corona disease was able to rapidly spread worldwide and has so far caused far more than 6 million deaths. The only thing that was ordered by the obviously incapable rulers, who only have a big mouth and are incapable of governing, was partially what should have been done in order to stop and end the epidemic when it first occurred. But since this was not done in the form it should have been done – which the peoples would also have gone along with without grumbling and growling and without demonstrations and destruction, just because the anxiety and, on the other hand, sufficient rationality were still present –, it then came about that the whole thing could pervert into a pandemic and ultimately get very badly out of the control of the good human nature in the form of an insurgency through demonstrations, Gewalt and the destruction of the human achievements of the peoples. Since the governments did not strictly order and implement that which was right and necessary and for long enough – which would have taken about 4-6 months and of course would have paralysed large parts of almost the entire economy – everything could pervert into a pandemic. But instead of everything being followed through, an up and down of the whole thing was imposed; that is to say, the wearing of masks and the keeping of distance as well as the lockdown and the measures in general, were only ordered for a short time, then abrogated again, only to be put into effect again, abrogated again and ordered once more. This inevitably led great masses of the peoples into delusion and rebellion, for it was realised that those in government were incapable of their office and were thinking up and ordering senselessness. This has automatically brought contrarians, conspiracy theorists and negators, that is to say, deniers of the rampantly spreading disease, to the scene, especially through the upcoming vaccination with vaccines that have been insufficiently tested and applied untested from the very beginning and are still being used on human beings in this form today. The fact that this has been tested on humanity 'for free' in this form ever since, and that the humanity has been misused as welcome 'guinea pigs', does obviously not seem to bother anyone. It is a fact, however, that since then – precisely since the application of untried vaccines – many thousands of vaccine deaths have been reported all over the world. Various human beings in fact show health conditions that in no form correspond to the demands of the vaccines, while others are immune to them, or are struck with severe late effects in later years, in which case it will not be recognised that these can be related back to the corona vaccination with vaccines that are harmful to health. However, that which should have been done when the rampantly spreading corona disease began to be rampant, which, however, the incapable rulers of all countries have not done, but instead have not considered responsibly in any form, but have rather slept it away, is the following:

1. A general and nationwide and absolutely unavoidable lockdown.
  2. The obligatory wearing of suitable respiratory protection masks of FFP2 quality.
  3. The absolutely essential keeping of distance between human beings.
  4. The necessary duration of these measures of at least 3-6 months.
  5. Complete isolation of known persons afflicted with the rampantly spreading disease, along with appropriate care.
  6. Necessary government-run food supply for persons isolated due to the rampantly spreading disease.
  7. A government control with regard to compliance with the enacted safety measures.
2. Already from the very beginning of a rampantly spreading disease – regardless of whether it is an epidemic or a pandemic – the spread of the same has to be determined and implemented by the government through corresponding and long-term safeguarding measures, since at this point in time the peoples are still receptive to rational behaviour and acting, which, however, will subside in the course of time when failures become visible. Also, sceptics, conspiracy theorists, negators and deniers will appear in time if those in government, out of inability and incapability, do not already at the beginning of a rampantly spreading disease order and have carried out everything that is destined for keeping a rampantly spreading disease at bay and which must be rationally decreed to the peoples. The freedom of the individual must be taken into account and respected in all circumstances, especially with regard to the voluntariness of a vaccination which, one way or another, falls within the realm of a self-decision which must not be touched by force of a state ordinance or by a false justification, attitude, anxiety or the behaviour of other human beings. That which would be rightful and the obligation of a capable government relates to it deciding and implementing in every respect that which is the right thing to do for the respective people, in order to guarantee them the best possible well-being and the security of health and of life, without Gewalt, dictatorial airs and graces, and in freedom.

This is what I have to say about the whole and what I have learned all my life, what I also really understand by freedom and responsibility for humanity, as this applies equally to all human beings and must not be changed even due to the greed for might, the low intelligentum or incapability of those in government.

Zafenatpaneach What you have said reflects my opinion and that of all of us. And what you are elaborating on, in terms of what should have been done at the very beginning of the rampantly spreading corona disease, corresponds to what really would have been necessary.

Bermunda This is also what Ptaah said, namely that this kind of action should be taken to prevent that which has just happened in a devastating form. And as I know from him, the rampantly spreading corona disease will continue to dominate the events of the day among the earthly peoples. Although the variant of the latest mutation, which is presently spreading rapidly, is not as aggressive in its course and effect as the mutations before it, it will become prevalent and spread dramatically in the coming weeks. In addition to this, it will be the case that the vaccinations will be useless to a large extent, because the continuously mutating virus of the rampantly spreading disease has already changed to such an extent that the vaccinations will become increasingly useless against a new infection, so that the vaccinated will still fall prey to an infection, just as those who have recovered will not be spared from it. This is not least because the vaccines – due to the doubtfulness of the insufficient trials and tests – do not correspond to the desired effect, and, on the other hand, because certain compounds are completely unsuitable for certain health constellations.
